Cutipol

Portugal

In a sector such as cutlery, where classical design and materials have predominated for decades, Cutipol sees it as essential to present a very diversified range of cutlery.

The Cutipol range includes traditional and modern design, in which great attention has been paid to detail. These new modern patterns called for a great deal of technical knowledge and meticulous care. Although modern machinery is used for much of the work, the old traditional craftsmanship still plays a major role.
